

Cabarrus County Schools is currently seeking a dynamic and highly skilled school psychologist to join a growing staff in expanding school psychological services to approximately 33,000 students in our district. Cabarrus County Schools is located 30 miles outside of uptown Charlotte and 45 miles from Greensboro and consists of over 40 schools with a diverse student population representing over 100 languages.

Job Description : School psychologists in Cabarrus County Schools are integral members of data-driven multi-tiered teams of support, participating regularly on problem-solving teams and providing both direct and indirect services to students. We engage in consultation, counseling, crisis response; assist with addressing mental health needs; collaborate with other school-based mental health colleagues; hold conferences with parents; and conduct psychoeducational evaluations when students are suspected of having disabilities. School psychologists in Cabarrus offer various trainings to staff, participate on multi-disciplinary district-level teams, and work with teachers, school staff, and families as part of a collaborative team within the school setting. We participate in regular professional development to boost our skill sets and continue to move forward in establishing a comprehensive service delivery model based on the NASP Practice Model.

We offer a collaborative approach to our work and provide a high level of support through a peer-mentoring model. School psychologists here operate in a professional learning community to collaborate and stay current on policies and best practices. There are many opportunities to grow in our interest areas. Self-care is a belief we hold as a core element in our practice. Cabarrus County Schools school psychologists are progressive, innovative, and child-centered and we are looking for other like-minded professionals to join us in the expansion of our psychological services team academic year to better meet the needs of the students in our district. See our CCS Psychological Services webpage for more.

Requirements: School psychology degree (M.A., Ed.S. or Ph.D.) from an approved NASP, APA or NCATE program. Must hold a valid North Carolina license in school psychology. NCSP is recognized in North Carolina for reciprocity. Interest in supporting high schools with strategic development and implementation of comprehensive psychological services delivery within an MTSS framework is a highly desired skill for one of the current positions.

To Apply: We are looking for candidates seeking immediate and permanent full-time employment in providing comprehensive school psychological services; however, we are open to considering a part-time status if needed! Call with specific questions. All interested applicants should direct their attention to the Cabarrus County Schools website for the employment link to our online application system and look under Student Safety & Well-being.

Please contact Amy Lowder, Director of Student Safety and Well-being, with any questions: 704-260-5771 or amy.lowder@cabarrus.k12.nc.us